

The Cum Laude Society Paper - 2009

A Representation and Celebration of Outstanding Scholarship in Cum Laude Society schools

To: Cum Laude Chapter Secretaries – December, 2008
From: The Cum Laude Society – Bradley E. Lyman, Registrar General

Paper to be Submitted Each of the over 360 Cum Laude Schools is invited to send a copy of a single outstanding example of original work, either creative or research based, to be considered for recognition as The Cum Laude Paper – 2009. The purpose is to recognize and celebrate outstanding academic achievement by submitting a paper or other class assignment that gives evidence of superior scholarship and original thought. The document submitted is to have been written for any course at the Cum Laude member school during the 2008-2009 school year, and cannot be re-written for this activity. It may be of any length. The school submitting will be asked to verify that all of these conditions have been met, by completing a provided cover sheet (below) to submit with the application.

Judging at the local level will be by your local Cum Laude Chapter – using any format or process you choose. Judging at the district and national level will be by the Cum Laude Regents and Officers in a ‘double-blind’ process (identification is removed from entries, and Regents will adjudicate papers from schools not in their geographic area).

Questions – Rules Interpretation The Registrar General, with the advice and consent of the national Regents at Large/President General, will answer procedural questions and be the sole arbiter of decisions/procedures. * See FAQ’s on the Society’s web page *

Awards The national judging panel may award a $500 grant to the author of one outstanding paper in each of the eight Cum Laude districts, and the author of the paper selected as The Cum Laude Paper – 2009 will receive an additional $500 national award ($1000 total).

Deadlines: Entries must be postmarked on or before July 15, 2009 – Each local Cum Laude chapter may submit one paper to the national Cum Laude office. Late entries cannot be accepted.

November 19, 2009 - (Annual Cum Laude meeting in Boston) – Final selection made.

December 2009 – National winner notified, and awards distributed.

Entry Process: Submit two copies of the paper: #1 - an original with the author’s name (might also have teacher markings). #2 is a ‘judge’s copy’ (one-sided printing) with all identification/markings removed. Failure to submit both copies will disqualify the entry.
